CARDS FAVORED OVER KEARNEY'S ELEVEN TONIGHT

Second N.I.A.A. Game
for Omaha Gridders;
Play at Kearney.

DAD'S DAY THERE

Omaha University's fast-stepping gridders will attempt to hurdle the second barrier in their path to another Nebraska Intercollegiate football crown tonight when they tangle with the Kearney State Teachers at Kearney.

With three victories tucked safely under their belts, the Cardinals rule as heavy favorites to trounce the outstaters handily.

That is, unless you ask Coach Sed Hartman. Then it's a different story.

Coach "Pop" Klein, famous for the powerful football contenders he has put out at Crete high school, is serving his first year as Kearney mentor, and Sed fears the bag of tricks that Klein and the Antelopes have prepared for the Omahans. Kearney is permitted to play freshmen, according to N. I. A. A. rules, while Omaha, also playing in the North Central loop, cannot use first-year men.

Klein's popularity among high school gridders has resulted in a bevy of prep stars following him to Kearney, and it is from these youngsters that Hartman fears trouble.

Kearney has engaged in two tilts this season and emerged with narrow victories in each. Two weeks ago they nosed out Kansas Wesleyan by 20-to-19, and last Friday a 30-yard pass in the final ten seconds gave them a 13-to-10 win over Kansas Wesleyan at Salina.

The Omaha squad has been drilling on Kearney plays this week. Special attention has been given to pass defense, a department in which the Cards were weak against Wayne. Omaha trounced Kearney last year by a 38-to-0 score.

The game will feature the Dad's Day celebration at Kearney, and extra bleachers have been built to accommodate the large crowd expected.

Hartman, Assistant Coach Johnny Baker and the entire squad left for Kearney by train this morning.

Football Team Gets Quite Doggy; Mascot Brings Win Over Wayne

The football team is "puttin' on the dog."

The dog is a little white and brown female terrier, which has been adopted as the official mascot of the Omaha grid squad.

Her name is First Down, and it's a title richly-deserved, according to "Tippy" Tyler, one of her owners, who says she makes at least ten yards every morning.

First Down has been attending practice sessions regularly for the past two weeks and is now one of the Cardinals' most loyal supporters.

She has been taught to bite only opposing players and to remain

To Welcome Haynes Formal Reception For Prexy Next Friday

President Rowland M. Haynes will be formally welcomed by the student body at an all-university convocation to be held in Jacob's Hall next Friday at 10 o'clock. Speakers at the reception will include the president, Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the Arts college; Kenneth Turner, president of the Student Council; and representatives of the Board of Regents, and the extension division.

Sigma Tau Delta Sponsors Contest

To Award Ten Dollar Prize
For Best Literature Submitted by Student.

A prize of ten dollars is being offered by Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, for the best piece of literature written by any student of the Municipal University of Omaha. It was announced Tuesday, October 8, at a meeting of the fraternity. Miss Jeannette Winters is in charge of the contest. The prize will be awarded at the commencement exercises next June.

Seven new members were pledged to Sigma Tau Delta at the meeting Tuesday. They are Dr. Benjamin Boyce, Lucille Hurlburt, Doris Lynn, Faye Lane, Lando Otto, Cherrie Fuller Baxter and Thelma Kristensen. They will be initiated at the end of two weeks.

Each member must have one thousand words published before he is eligible for active membership.

Mrs. Irene Pierce is president of the organization. She succeeds Mrs. Inez Bradford, who was elected head of the group last year, but has left the city. Gladys Reynolds is program chairman for the coming year.

Gamma's Dance To Open Season

The first pledge dance of the season will be given Saturday evening, October 12, in Jacob's Hall by Gamma Sigma Omicron sorority. The dance decorations will be worked out on a nautical theme. Two hundred and fifty bids have been issued to the dance. The Creightonian orchestra will furnish the music.

Norma Jean Warwick, Gamma pledge president, is in charge of the arrangements. She is assisted by Ruth Wemmer, Maxine Mills, Dorothy Riggins, Marjorie Strand, Joan Wirts, Phyllis Bauman and Rovine Dawson.

Martin Speckter, ex '37, visited the campus Wednesday.

Scout Frat Edits Questionnaire

Alpha Phi Omega Compiling Student-Interest Report at Municipal University.

Alpha Phi Omega, national Scouting fraternity on the campus, presented a questionnaire on extra-curricular activities before an all men's assembly held in the gym last Friday morning, October 4.

President Haynes spoke briefly on the part that such activities should play in the college man's life. He said in part, "Extra-curricular activities in college correspond to civic activities in later life, and the student who participates in such activities in his university life is better prepared to become a valuable civic-minded citizen of the future."

The questionnaire covered practically all activities on the campus and serves as a survey of interest in outside activities among the men of the university, according to Elbert Hoisington, president of the organization which sponsored the effort. The results are being tabulated according to varying interests and will be available for inspection by any of the student organizations upon calling at Dean Bradfield's offices. Plans are being formulated to present a similar question sheet to the women of the university in the near future.

Thetas Winners In Class Voting

For the first time in the history of Omaha University, four men representing the same fraternity were elected to head their classes. All four presidents are members of Theta Phi Delta.

The following students were named as officers at the Student Council election held Friday, October 4: Seniors—John Moucka, president; Dorothy Anderson, vice-president; Maxine Steincamp, secretary-treasurer. Juniors—Carson Rogers, president; Ellen Hartman, vice-president; Elizabeth Bostwick, secretary-treasurer. Sophomores—Wade Knapp, president; Katherine Davis, vice-president; Dorothy Hanna, secretary-treasurer. Freshmen—Franklin Spangler, president; Janice Johnston, vice-president; and Harriet Salmon, secretary-treasurer.

Irene Tinkham was elected sophomore woman representative. Troy Woerner and John Pearson tied for Junior man representative.

Out of the 560 students eligible to vote, only 198 voted in the Council election. The greatest number of voters were Seniors, with a representation of 55 per cent. The sophomores had the least number of voters, with 23 per cent of the class participating.

Franklin Buxton, '35, is now working for the W. P. A. at Lincoln.

Barbs Organize For First Time

Non-Greeks Meet and Plan For Float in Homecoming Parade;
Turner Presides.

For the first time in the history of the Municipal University of Omaha the Barbs are organizing and plan to participate in all student activities as a united body. The first signs of such a movement was the Barb meeting called Wednesday, October 9, to plan on a Barb float for the Homecoming celebration parade, October 25. Over sixty non-Greeks attended and according to Ed Nell Benson, '38, who suggested the calling of this meeting, the majority were men.

Kenneth Turner, '36, president of the student council, presided. The need of a Barb organization was discussed, and a committee was selected to prepare a float for the parade, Friday, October 25.

Mary Ann Harrington, '37, was selected as the candidate for the Homecoming Princess election, which will be held Wednesday, October 23.

The committee in charge of the float for Homecoming includes: Lois Medlock, Louise Riggs, Jack Bittner, Margaret Hudson, Kathryn Stewart, Jack Thompson, James Peterson, Jack Jackson, Amos Hull, Simeon Thomas, and Perry Rushlau.

The next meeting of the Barbs will be held in the gym Monday, October 14, at noon for the purpose of completing the arrangements for their part in the Homecoming festival and for the committee to present their plans to the body as a whole and secure their approval.

WOERNER CHOSEN

Troy Woerner, '37, was selected by the Student Council as the Junior representative to the council at a meeting Thursday noon. Woerner and John Pearson had tied in the election held last Friday, October 4.

ALL HOMECOMING EVENTS WILL BE HELD IN ONE DAY

Council Decides On Complete Festival
For October 25.

TO PLAY PERU

The entire program of Omaha University's annual Homecoming celebration will be held on one day, instead of on two successive days, as was originally planned, the Student Council decided at its meeting Tuesday.

The Homecoming parade, presentation of the Princess, the Omaha-Peru football game and the dinner-dance will all be held Friday, October 25.

"If we let the program last two days the interest would not be as great, and perhaps would die down the second day," stated Kenneth Turner, president of the Student Council.

Only ticket holders will be allowed to take part in the election of the Princess of Homecoming. The election will be held under the auspices of the Student Council Wednesday, October 23.

There will be a mass meeting in the gym Friday morning, October 10, and last-minute instructions for the formation of the parade will be given by Lewis Leigh, chairman of the parade. The parade will form along Twenty-fourth street at 11 o'clock and will continue through the downtown district, returning to the university in time for the game.

The game with Peru will start at 2 o'clock and will be played at the N. S. S. A. park at Thirtieth and Wirt. A committee is planning a bonfire rally before the kick-off.

The Homecoming dinner and dance will be held in Jacob's Hall, the dinner starting at 6:30 o'clock. Arrangements for guest speakers at the dinner are being made by John Moucka. William Nelson is in charge of the dance, which will begin at 9 o'clock.

TO THE THETAS

DEAR THETAS:

Last week you gave a splendid example of what a well-oiled, efficiently-organized political machine can accomplish when four members of your fraternity were elected to head the four classes.

It was a fine job and well done. You won fairly and squarely. No one is complaining about that.

But it seems to us that the job is just begun. Your political machine has swept to victory in campus elections before. In the past, however, this machine has fallen apart immediately after the last ballot was counted, with the result that class officers accomplished nothing, were neither useful nor ornamental and were never heard from again until the next year, when they ran for office in a higher class.

Of course, the Thetas were not entirely to blame. There were others, but not many.

This year, since you dominated the election so completely, your opportunity for real worthwhile accomplishment is proportionately increased.

We know you can organize and do it efficiently. Now if you will only utilize this same organizational ability in conducting an active class program, we are certain it will be more valuable than merely securing the offices for your members.

So please, dear Thetas, hold the machine together for a while longer and see if it can not accomplish something valuable.

Yours sincerely,

THE STUDENTS.

PERSONAL CONTACT

"The Municipal University of Omaha, being of moderate size, offers this great advantage: Personal contact of student and teacher, the priceless ingredient of education," states an advertisement in the anniversary edition of the Omaha World-Herald. We wonder if students of the University fully appreciate this intimate association they enjoy with the faculty.

Omaha University is one of a few universities with academic standing in which the student is more than a number or a last name to whom a grade is sent at the close of each semester. In our small classes the students receive personal, interested instruction, and are at liberty to pursue controversial points and engage in class room discussions.

In keeping with the progressive curriculum of the University the majority of the faculty have adopted the tutorial method, whereby the student confers individually each week with his professor. These weekly conferences are an impossibility in a large university. We recommend to the students that they take advantage of this "personal contact."

Pity The Poor Ichthyosaurus!

By JEAN BEBER

It all started innocently enough when some imaginative ad-writer began flooding the country with posters depicting agile prehistoric brutes tripping gaily over the countryside and shoving each other over cliffs. The implication of the posters was that somebody's gasoline must be pretty good, although they never really went so far as to say that the dinosaurs endorsed the product.

Now that was all right. Dinosaurs were in the habit of shoving each other over cliffs in their palmy days, so I don't suppose there is particular harm in having them do it for the benefit of a certain gasoline.

But things have changed lately. The dinosaur has become old-fashioned, a back number, so to speak. Being prehistoric is bad enough, but when you add to that the stigma of being old-fashioned and a back number—my heart is wrung like a sweepstakes winner's doorbell.

The ad-writers have deserted the dinosaur, tossed him out in the cold and have turned to the ichthyosaurus!

Now we run into trouble. You can't picture a pair of jolly ichthyosauri nudging each other naively off a mountain-peak, because ichthyosauri were marine animals who spent their entire humdrum existence paddling placidly through the ocean.

So the mischievous ad-writers blare forth the startling fact that "one gallon would lift an ichthyosaurus two and three-eighths miles into the air"—and, surely enough, there are the posters showing John W. Ichthyosaurus, a mild, home-loving sort of fellow who never bothered anyone, suspended two and three-eighths miles above his native waves, where Mrs. I. and Junior are wondering what has happened to Papa.

It isn't fair. Especially since the ad-writers leave him there and don't bother to bring him down. I suppose the novelty pleased the ichthyosaurus at first, but the monotony gets him after a while, and I'll bet he begins to long for home and family. If nothing is done soon I will have to take it upon myself to organize a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Innocent and Helpless Ichthyosauri.

I suppose, like all pioneers in the right, we shall be subject to the scorn of those who believe that we shouldn't bother so much about a creature that is extinct. But it seems to me that the extinct animals are all the more deserving of our help and assistance, since they obviously can't be expected to shift for themselves.

For the coat-of-arms of our organization I am going to suggest an ad-writer quartered on a field of cactus and nettles, surmounted by the Latin motto, "All gall is divided into three parts, and the ad-writers have all three."

Thru The Keyhole

Scoop....It seems that a certain sorority's pledges are pffft with their actives and are going to fold up inna body after their dance.

What with the Ak Ball, Wayne Game, and the Theta Picnic last week-end, plenty of dirt is on hand....As was expected....Tiny and Bunny at the Theta Picnic, showing little interest in the fireside....Several interesting combinations at the picnic were Rogers-Nall, Cunningham-Johnson, Lehmer-Steincamp, and Spangler-Davis....Woerner was in high spirits and Hesler picked up a new name....A modern Peter....Well, he would give talks in church....Hughes didn't know whether he was coming or going at the Ball.

The library is being inhabited at last....Tyler studies every night so as to sit next to Grenville....Donlon also broods in the library between the hours of seven and nine....Speculations are being made as to how long Van Husen will be true....(don't stand in line, however)....Wonder what the Hawaiians have that we don't.

A few fancy names for this week are Charles AMBROSE Jerome, Aloha FAY Ulrich, Evelyn FRANCES Clough.

A certain prof out yere is known as "Butch".... If you have ever worked on The Gateway you will know who we mean....Gammon, stalwart guard, has at last succumbed and is engaged in heavy correspondence with a femme....Andy is loose again....Ask Mary Owen....We suggest for the Gamma dance....Rogers-Meyers, Johnson-Thornton, Thompson-and whoever has the bridge toll.... We understand that a certain Wayne student wanted to transfer to Omaha after she saw Hargrove....he was so cute....By the impression Mills is making on the team she'll have her letter before the season is over....Anyway, Kersenbrock is going to do her feet no good at the Gamma.

Lewis Leigh enjoys the spirit of the chase....The team has a new mascot....a little dawg....he is called First Down, because he makes ten yards before breakfast....Are Hawaiians citizens? Ed Nell Benson is plenty worried about it.

Students!

Students! Submit your ideas of a good Indian name for the University's athletic team, a school song or a stirring Indian yell. A prize will be awarded for the best yell, the best song and the best name entered in the competition. Bring your entries in the contest to The Gateway office on or before Wednesday, October 23.

A committee of two students and two faculty members will select five entries from each group and these will be published in the October 25 issue of The Gateway. A ballot will be printed in The Gateway at that time and the students will be asked to pick their favorites.

Complete Plans For Pep Group

Plans for completing the organization of the Women's Pep club before Homecoming were made at a meeting held Wednesday, October 9. A committee of seven women, one from each organization, was appointed to draw up a constitution to be presented to the group for ratification at a meeting Thursday, October 17.

Virginia Lee Long was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for the club to take an active part in the Homecoming celebration. She will be assisted by Betty Lou Stringer and Ruth Grenville.

An Indian name has not as yet been chosen for the club. The names of four Omaha Indian families, the Um-pa's, the Wa-jae-pa's, the Wa-zin-ga's and the Um-pa-sa's, and the names of two ancient leaders, Hun-ga and Ta-pa, were suggested at the meeting Wednesday, but action on the choosing of a name was delayed until further suggestions have been made.

A uniform, consisting of a black shirt, a red sweater and a black beret with a red feather, was decided upon by the group. The women were informed that in order to be eligible for membership in this club they must purchase season basketball and football tickets. It was also decided to limit membership in the organization to sophomores, juniors and seniors. Plans for forming a men's pep organization paralleling the newly-formed women's group were announced Wednesday by Kenneth Hargrove, a member of the Pan-Hel Pep club committee. Distinctive sweaters have been selected for the members and letters will be awarded at the end of the school year to those members of the organization who have rendered meritorious service.

The members of the Women's Pep club selected last week by the sororities and the bars on the campus are:

Sigma Chi Omicron: Betty Lou Stringer, Lillian Damask and Dorothy Anderson.

Pi Omega Pi: Minnette Myers, Virginia Lee Long and Eloise Johnson.

Phi Delta Psi: Gladys Lehr, Carol Wigton and Ellen Hartman.

Gamma Sigma Omicron: Elizabeth Bostwick, Elaine Coulter and Maxine Mills.

Alpha Gamma Chi: Fannie Witkin, Bertha Slutsky and Ellabelle Korney.

Kappa Psi Delta: Ardith Hudson, Rosemarie Mashek and Patricia Bush.

Barbs: Ruth Grenville, Virginia Lowe, Ellen Forehead, Jane Vincent and Thelma Kristensen.

"That remains to be seen," said the elephant as he walked in the fresh cement.

Break Five Year Tie With Wayne

By beating Wayne 19 to 6 Friday night Omaha broke the jinx and piled a victory on to five years of ties. This is the third straight win for Omaha and puts them at the top of the Nebraska Intercollegiate conference.

Pearey featured in all quarters, alternating with Tippy Tyler, and they divided the three Omaha touchdowns between them. Pearey accounted for two and Tyler collected the remaining touchdown.

Reeling off two touchdowns in the first four minutes of play, before Wayne carried the ball from scrimmage, Omaha all but blasted the Teachers from the field.

Wayne booted to Omaha's 28 on the first kickoff and Tyler carried it 38 yards around end. Then Pearey and Tyler, Omaha's heaviest scorers, took turns carrying it down the field. Pearey scored.

Wayne's pass on the first down after the next kickoff was intercepted by Boldenow. Tyler took it around end to score from the 6-yard line.

A bounding punt hit Brown of Omaha and a Wayne back fell on it on the 12-yard line. Roland Coffey of Wayne carried it over in two plays for their only score. The Teachers failed in the try for extra point.

In the third quarter Omaha repeated its first touchdown march, and Pearey led the attack and scored again.

In the final quarter, Fisher, Wayne half, kept the air filled with passes in the last few moments of the game to threaten the Omahans, who were marking time. Wayne reached Omaha's 15-yard line before she was stopped and the game ended.

Dear Editor:

Why doesn't the University let Omaha know that it has school colors? The only time we display our red and black is with the sweaters worn at football games. Wouldn't it add a bit of life to the school in the eyes of the public if when one passes the University campus on a festive occasion, one saw black and red flags about the grounds? The flags could be used on many occasions—at banquets, at convocations, at football games, and in parades.

Is there a fund in the school to defray the expense of buying such flags?

A STUDENT.

Editor's Note: There is a Student Activities fund from which money can be drawn to purchase these flags. The matter has been referred to the one in charge of the fund, with the suggestion that the flags be purchased before the convocation welcoming President Haynes next Friday.

ORCHESIS DANCES

Miss Ruth Diamond, women's physical education instructor, and eight members of the Orchesis class gave a demonstration for the Iowa Teachers' Association in Council Bluffs Thursday, October 10. The demonstration consisted of fundamentals, Rhapsody in Blue and Eccossals.

The women who participated in the demonstration are Anne Raymond, Eloise Johnson, Maxine Steincamp, Janet Graetz, Mildred Garries, Margery Charles, Helen Saltares and Frances Dilger. Betty Fellman assisted at the piano.

BICYCLE IN ELMWOOD

A bicycling party will be given by W. A. A. next Wednesday, October 16, at 5 o'clock in Elmwood park. The women will cook their dinner out-of-doors. Helen Saltares is chairman of the party.

Plays Given Over Radio

The dramatic classes of the university are presenting a series of one-act plays over radio station W. A. A. W. The first play broadcast, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was entitled, "At the Photographer's." Those in the cast were Bess Greer, Virginia Lee Long, Jane Vincent and Gordon Quiller. This series of programs will continue indefinitely and will be broadcast every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Next Saturday's play is entitled, "A Pair of Lunatics," and those taking part are Mary Owen and Sylvan Frankel.

Frosh Gridsters Meet So. Dakota In First Game

Warren Howard, freshman football coach, will make no predictions as to the outcome of their first encounter with South Dakota frosh a week from today, October 18, although the possibility of a victory is very probable.

During the past several weeks the freshmen have concentrated their efforts on the defense against the varsity, using the varsity opponents' plays.

The twenty-two huskies that compose the squad have taken many severe beatings in various scrimmages against the varsity this fall, and many have proven themselves outstanding. Among the freshmen making high bids for varsity positions next fall will be: Frame, half; Kulper, full; Zerschling, tackle; Kersenbrock, end; and the famous Hawaiian delegation, according to Howard.

The question this year is "Resolved, that Congress should be permitted, by a two-thirds majority vote, to override any five-four decision of the Supreme Court declaring a law unconstitutional."

All students interested in debate should be present at the next meeting on Wednesday, October 16, in Room 2.

Discontinue Radio Program This Year

The Omaha University radio programs will not be continued this year, since a suitable time cannot be found in which to give them, according to E. M. Hosman, director of extension.

"The programs must be given during a 'free time' period," declared Mr. Hosman, "and at present no such time is available."

It will be recalled that the programs were a regular weekly feature of station KOIL last year, consisting chiefly of general discussions pertaining to the University and its aims by professors and students.
